Hanex® Solid Surfaces

We have a long track record of success in the production of acrylic materials since 1995, on 2 continents, at different production sites and in different manufacturing facilities.

Our passion and focus is always to identify the next trends and new technologies and realise them into new designs, patterns and finished products.

In addition to a European warehouse in Hamburg, we have a widely connected network of qualified processors and distributors around the world.

The unlimited design flexibility of HANEX® allows you to create beautiful, durable and aesthetically pleasing surfaces in any residential or commercial environment.

It is durable, can be thermoformed into any desired shape and, thanks to its wide colour spectrum and translucency, allows for exceptional, colourful designs.

HANEX® can be heated and three-dimensionally moulded in a simple process (many decors), enables visually seamless designs, offers an almost infinite colour spectrum and - for some shades - a special translucency in combination with light.

Applications include all vertical and horizontal surfaces in kitchens, bathrooms, airports, hospitals, food preparation facilities, retail shops, schools, universities, stadiums, offices, exhibition stands and public buildings.

HANEX® is available as panels in various sizes and thicknesses. The collection is complemented by our range of kitchen sinks, wash-basins, bathtubs and shower trays.

Easy processing high hygiene standards

Although HANEX® is almost as robust as stone, the material can be worked in a similar way to wood: It can be sawn, milled, drilled and sanded.

As a specialist company for wood processing, for example, you have the necessary equipment in your workshop to process Hanex®. This includes standard carpentry machines such as sliding table saws, routers and sanding machines.
